IV. Faculty Senate Discussion

There was a question about federal agencies – Tom McCoy will provide feedback through the president.

President Smatresk and Provost Graves will comment on the items listed for discussion.

V. President Neal Smatresk and Provost Finley Graves

The Graduate School will be working on several items this summer, including the admissions process. There will be a search committee formed for the new provost search. Concern was raised as to the number of administrators in “interim” positions.

There is not yet a dollar amount established for the university budget. At this point there is an estimate of revenues vs costs. All budgets must be surfaced first. Commitments made to GATs will be honored although the cost is high. The commitment to equity and merit amounts to approximately 2%.

Library costs will amount to approximately 700,000-million next year. Ten more years at this rate will amount to about 11-14 million more than today.

Compression, equity, merit, library and GA funds drive the budget currently.

UNT has experienced summer school losses to NCTC. Sustainable efforts from departments “chip away” at funds. GATs will cost 1.8 million this coming year. There are 573 students who have been promised both GATS and health benefits. Each student will get $173 increase to allow them to use campus health benefits. State will cost another 93+ independent of tuition reimbursement, and we are committed for three more years. Budgets will be transparent. Deans will be responsible for college-level transparency. President Smatresk wants to give more authority and accountability to deans.

The interim dean for the graduate school will wear two hats for 2-3 months. Functions and efficiencies will be explored. The graduate school structure is on the agenda for deans.

Graduate school centralized programs should be of service to departments. Better customer service is the key.

Dean Totten is scheduled to retire and an interim dean will be required. As of June 1, there will be only one interim cabinet member. The goal is a “lean” rather than a “fat” administrative structure.

After commencement, a search committees for administrative positions will be formed with strong academic representation. All search committees are advisory as outlined in Academic Policy 13.9. (Shared Governance). Deans have been given instructions regarding college searches. Searches will be open with regard to rank, salary, and options.
Summer School. Summer provides important credit hours toward formula funding. We pay for facilities whether or not we use them. If we take away summer, fall is packed. We will be working on taking portion of budget “off the top” to rebuild summer school. Revenue more important than cost.

Commencement Plans: The call will be made by 9 am Saturday. If there are light showers, the university will provide tarps and raincoats. In the case of severe weather, ceremonies will be held in the Coliseum with remote screening in the Murchison.

Student death: The university did not publicize the death of a student because parents had not been notified.
